BACKGROUND

The Friant-Kern Canal Pipeline Project (FKCP) construction is scheduled for the Summer of 2016. Construction of the FKCP will require SCADA software integration services at the NESWTF to communicate and control the operation FKCP surface water diversion structure. Due to potential software cyber security risk and the complexity associated with integrating SCADA system software, a certified, competent, and trustworthy consultant is required for the critical operation of the NESWTF. Enterprise Automation has successfully and efficiently performed similar services for other Department of Public Utilities projects and maintains a detailed knowledge of the site SCADA system that greatly reduces the startup efforts and time to integrate the two systems.
