Council Meeting

SANTA CLARA STREET

A photograph of a cluttered street scene, likely a makeshift settlement or a street market. The foreground is filled with various items, including a large white bag, a green bucket, and a pile of orange mesh material. In the background, there are makeshift structures made of cardboard and other materials, some covered with black tarps. A chain-link fence is visible in the distance. The overall scene is one of poverty and makeshift living. The text "State of Santa Clara Street" is overlaid in a white serif font, centered within a white rectangular border.
