The above item was introduced to Council by Councilmember Bredefeld.

Upon call, there was no public comment.

Councilmember Olivier joined the meeting at 2:04 P.M.

Councilmember Chavez asked if this was for residential and/or commercial and if there are tools in place to abate property maintenance.

Council Vice President Brandau asked what happened to the abated property in District 6, when are fines collected and when is the problem is corrected. Council Vice President also asked where does the money for the fines that are collected go and stated his goal would be if the fine is paid the property is corrected right away before it impacts the neighbors. Council Vice President Brandau directed City Attorney Sloan to set up a workshop to discuss these issues in three weeks to a month from now and provide some policy options to vote on at that time.

Councilmember Bredefeld asked City Attorney Sloan to comment on the money that is collected that goes into the general fund.

City Attorney Sloan stated all fine revenue is general fund revenue but there are sources of revenues in each departments budget. Assistant City Manager Sumpter responded that the fine revenue is parking funds not code enforcement.

Council President Soria stated she has a lot of problem properties in her area and would like to increase the fines per violations. Council President Soria also asked for an update of those who are in compliance after being noticed.

City Manager Quan-Schecter asked City Attorney Sloan if he could outline some options for violations and increasing of fines. City Attorney Sloan replied there can be code changes to allow maintenance using fine money already collected for that property and a certain percentage can be used for on going maintenance if necessary. Secondly strengthening the code to state repeated offenders will be fined with a misdemeanor.
