

Our Lives
Surviving the Streets of Fresno
a film

Sometimes life the way you know it doesn't happen to somebody else...

- Yellowfeather Noriega

survivingfresno.blogspot.com

The short documentary Our Lives: Surviving the Streets of Fresno shares both the unique stories and the varied opinions of ten individuals directly affected by homelessness in Fresno, California. Some were long-time residents of encampments and are now living at Dakota EcoGarden, others stay at the "Pov" or Mission. One man simply sleeps "over by the tracks."

Bonus features include the panel discussions with individuals featured in the film, from two public screenings which occurred on April 10, 2015 at Unitarian Universalist Church of Fresno and April 14, 2015 at Community Media Access Collaborative.

This project was supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian.

SURVIVINGFRESNO.BLOGSPOT.COM

Our Lives
Surviving the Streets of Fresno
a film

FRESNO COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

