VII. New Matters

- VII-A ID 24-412 Presentation by consultant team (WRT) to review the proposed Specific Plan policies on Public Spaces and Historic Preservation.

Winch reviewed the project schedule and community outreach efforts undertaken for policy development. The draft is expected to be ready in July for public review and the project is expected to end in January 2025. Winch explained how the policies will be reviewed.

- VII-B ID 24-411 Subcommittee Updates

1. Public Spaces Subcommittee
2. Historic Preservation Subcommittee

Asadoorian-Gilbert recapped the policies on Parks and Historic Preservation.

Chairperson Johnson asked Peter about revising policies and providing clear guidance for changes. They discussed the success of a new pocket park, the replanting program, and options for planting trees.

Catania suggested smaller parks to access quiet spaces.

Birdsong highlighted the issue of parking in local neighborhoods.

Coble asked about a standalone budget for public safety.

Chairperson Johnson emphasized the need for a historic context statement and Winch agreed to explore the idea.

They discussed the possibility of having code enforcement ensure that the regulations for historic properties are being followed.

Birdsong suggested conducting a new study on potential historic resources.

Winch noted the critical attention these policies are receiving and how they reflect the needs being addressed.

VIII. Unscheduled Oral Communications

Brooke pointed out that the name of the Gillis library branch was misspelled in the Tower District Library policy 1.2 and reiterated that the Gillis library would be a valuable addition to the district.

Christina supported Brooke's extensive groundwork for a Tower District Library.

Dan suggested that the idea of a police substation should be abandoned. He also stated churches are exempted from Historic Preservation by federal law. He pointed out that the connection to downtown is larger than Fulton and Van Ness as there is also Weber and H. The item is too confined and ignores the history of the area.

Daniel highlighted the lack of policy language specific to Tower Theater and questioned the policy's implementation of developing a historic context study.

*Kiel requested air quality monitoring in parks with alerts for poor air.
Suggests capping canal to create space. Against more police, wants better lighting and safer spaces. Unsure where to find subcommittee meetings.*

Juan wants more accessibility and safety for the bike lanes in Fresno.

Scott inquired about the boundaries and context of Historic Preservation and Conservation policy 1.4, specifically regarding historic districts.

IX. Adjournment

The Chair adjourned meeting at 6:46 pm
