VI. Continued Matters

VI-A ID 24-307 Presentation on Land Use Concepts

Winch summarized the previous meeting, which focused on five Land Use Themes. The meeting addressed concerns about business displacement, family-oriented neighborhoods, protection of residential areas from industrial uses, mitigating impact without changing Light Industrial Zoning, examining the Tower District from the perspective of residents, supporting higher density, addressing traffic concerns, ensuring that new developments contribute positively to the character of the Tower District, and exploring non-market models to provide affordable housing and grocery stores.

Coble requested additional clarification regarding the concept of a non-market model, to which the WRT staff responded by stating that it was designed to facilitate development without being dependent on the private market.

Members of the public discussed concerns about bike lanes not complying with regulations, health concerns around Producers, Caltrans' work on the 99, and the accessibility in the Tower Districts. Members also expressed concerns about the effects of industrial land use on air quality and the environment and discussed mitigation measures. They also mentioned the smell caused by the High-Speed Rail and PG&E. Finally, the community expressed support for the businesses in the industrial area and acknowledged their contributions to the community.

Birdsong explained the history related to Producers and the rezone that occurred.

Chairperson Johnson requested information regarding changes to the Residential Land Use Theme and expressed concerns about the creation of ADUs and parking issues.

Catania provided a comprehensive list of potential businesses that could be established in the "middle" and the associated traffic and pedestrian patterns that might emerge as a result of such ventures. Lauderdale was able to elaborate further, explaining the importance of aligning these businesses with the current Land Use framework already in place.

Chairperson Johnson asked about zoning in high density and Land use designation impacts and what the results of the proposed theme changes would be.

Winch summarized the changes to the Themes. (Main Street, Park Opportunities, Employment Theme,) Pagoulatos explained that proposed changes would remove some legal non-conformity and that parking restrictions/regulation are created by State.

VII. New Matters

VII-A ID 24-308 Policy Recap Discussion

Rawat reviewed the document that will be handed out to provide comments on the proposed changes. WRT staff explained the organization and the overview of the structure on the document, and key feature to note for the Subcommittee.

Chairperson Johnson asked how the document would be handed out to the Subcommittees.

VIII. Unscheduled Oral Communications

There were concerns from members of the public about air quality, zoning changes, accessibility of sidewalks, safety concerns related to bike lanes, and potential trail development along the canal. It was also noted that Fresno City College is acquiring land in the area and La Tapatia is willing to work with the community to improve South Tower and Belmont Corridor while meeting CA Air Resource Board requirements.
